Foreword

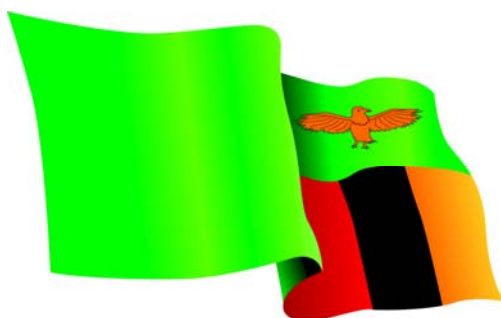

Welcome to the Monthly presentation organised by the Dissemination Branch of the Central Statistical Office (CSO). The CSO embarks on vigorous information delivery strategy to major stakeholders and the media institutions in order to increase utilisation of statistical products and services. The office produces a number of statistical products in the Economic, Social, Agricultural and Environmental areas. The information collected in these areas may be used for various purposes including policy formulation, planning, implementation, monitoring and evaluation of programmes and projects.

This Monthly publication is an attempt to provide highlights of CSO's work and how it can help media institutions and the general public to make use of data and information for sustainable national development and decision-making.

I would like to urge our readers and users of statistical information to send to us any comments that may enhance statistical production and contribute to the improvement of this bulletin.

INFLATION

Inflation declines from 14.3 percent in August 2009 to 13.0 percent in September 2009

The annual rate of inflation, as measured by the all items Consumer Price Index (CPI), declined by 1.3 percentage points from 14.3 percent in August, 2009 to 13.0 percent in September, 2009. The decline in the annual inflation rate in September 2009 was mainly due to the decrease in some food prices, new motor vehicle prices and air fares.

The cost of new motor vehicles and air fares declined due to the appreciation of the kwacha against the US dollar between August and September 2009.

Changes in annual inflation rates for CPI Main Groups

Between September 2008 and September 2009, the annual inflation rates increased for medical care, clothing and footwear. The annual inflation rate reduced for food, beverages and tobacco; rent, fuel and lighting; furniture and household goods; transport and communication; recreation and education; and other goods and services.

DEMOGRAPHY

Violence against Women on the Increase!

The Zambia Demographic and Health Survey (ZDHS) conducted every four years, collects information on various social and health issues including violence against women. In the 2001/02 and 2007 surveys, respondents were asked whether they had experienced physical violence by a husband/partner or any other person in the 12 months prior to the surveys. Results from the surveys show that cases of violence against women in Zambia had increased.

The results show that the proportion of women who reported having experienced physical violence in the 12 months prior to the surveys increased from 23 percent in 2001/2 to 33 percent in 2007. The increase was observed in all age groups apart from the age group 15-19 years.

The results further show that cases on the violence against women increased by almost the same proportions in both rural and urban areas (10 percentage points in urban areas and 9 percentage points in rural areas, respectively).

AGRICULTURE

About 60 Percent of The Total Cropped Area Is Under Maize, Reveals the 2008/09 CFS!

The government through the Ministry of Agriculture and Cooperatives has been promoting crop diversification among farmers. However, the 2008/2009 Crop Forecasting Survey results reveal that 57.8 percent of the total cultivated area is under maize. The rest of the crops occupy only 42.2 percent of the total cultivated area in the country.

Analysis by province shows that North-western had the highest proportion of area under maize in comparison to the total area planted to all crops with 73.8 percent. This was followed by Western Province with 70.8 percent. The lowest proportion of area under maize in comparison to total area planted to all other crops was recorded in Northern and Luapula provinces with 37.1 percent and 42.1 percent, respectively. This is so because the staple food for most people in the two provinces is mainly cassava. Therefore, large tracts of land are under cassava.
